NEARLY UP TO DIVISION POINT

TODAY'S RECEIPTS EXPECTED TO START RETURNS.

WRAY HEADS BOARD

1925 Maryville Chautauqua Is Financial Successs and Surplus Is Expected—90 Sign Guarantee List.

The 1925 Maryville Chautauqua is a financial success in every way.

Under the terms of the contract with the Redpath-Vawter Chautauqua Co., the local association shares 50 per cent of all receipts over $2,623 and it thought that this mark will be reached at the close of the program this afternoon.

If such is the case, the local association will share half of all the receipts of the three sessions remaining this year which should amount to a good sum.

At a business meeting held in the course of last night's program, nine directors were chosen to head the association next year. Those elected were: Arch K. Frank, Fred French, John Graves, D. A. Caldwell, Mrs. R. C. Person, Mrs. L. L. St. Clair, Leslie G. Somerville, Roland Wray and Fred Miller.

Roland Wray was chosen as president of the new board of directors at a meeting held at the Chamber of Commerce office this afternoon. J. R. Lowry was elected to succeed Fred Miller, who found it impossible to serve next year. Mr. Lowry was elected vice-president of the board.

A contract was signed with the Redpath-Vawter Chautauqua Co. for a program next year. The division point for the equal division of proceeds was fixed at $2,223 for next year instead of $2,623 as was the case this year.

An effort was made last night to secure a large number of guarantors for the 1926 Chautauqua but only a few signed the cards which were passed around. The committee urges that many more sign the guarantee list for next year as it will show that Maryville is behind the Chautauqua organization. The members of the committee devote considerable time each year to the selling of season tickets and making necessary arrangements for the Chautauqua. All of their efforts are without pay of any kind, and it is urged that the citizens of Maryville show their loyalty to the committee by signing the guarantee.

Ninety persons have signed the guarantee list for next year's Chautauqua. An effort will be made to increase this number to 150.

JUNIOR TOWN IS BUSY PLACE

CITIZENS PREPARING FOR PROGRAM TOMORROW.

REPORTS ARE GIVEN

Boys And Girls Tell of Work They Are Doing—Clown To Furnish Entertainment for Everyone.

Junior Town was a busy place this morning with all of the citizens making final preparations for the program for tomorrow afternoon, when they will assist the clown. Reports were made by the boys on the progress that they have made in building the bird houses and the girls told of the crepe dresses, which they are making.

The meeting started with songs and yells of Junior Town, lead by Miss McWilliams, the Junior supervisor. Following this a short talk was given by Miss Dixie Harris, Red Cross representative, who told the kiddies of the good health habits and also instructed them in what foods to eat during the summer time.

The boys were then dismissed from the tent and joined in games, led by the crew boys. The girls remained in the "Big Top" and practiced on the dances and songs which they will give tomorrow.

The children's part on the chautauqua program tomorrow will be very short and will consist in a display of the bird houses, made by the Junior Boys, songs and yells by the entire Junior Town, and dances by the girls of Junior Town.

URGES USE OF HOME PRODUCT

LABOR COMMISSIONER WANTS ALL TO USE MISSOURI COAL

GASOLINE TAX LESS

But Belated Reports Are Expected to Bring June Business Up to Total of Preceding Month

Jefferson City, Aug. 4.—Roy B. Hinkle, state labor commissioner, has started a campaign to urge Missourians to use coal produced in this state.

Commissioner Hinkle believes miners of Missouri would be helped materially if there were a greater demand for fuel produced in this state.

"Have you bought your Missouri coal for next winter?" is the question that Commissioner Hinkle propounds to all persons to whom he sends letters.

Jefferson City, Aug. 4.—The state gasoline tax of 2 cents per gallon fell off in June when $443,704 was collected, making a total of $2,142,376.27 collected since January 1, according to a report by Asa Butler, state oil inspector.

However, it is believed delinquent payments from June will make the tax exceed that of May when a total of $440,796 was collected.

While the June reports should have been filed with the state treasury by July 25 some of the oil companies still are reporting the tax.

The money is placed to the credit of the road fund for the maintenance of the state highway system. June, July and August were expected to be the banner months for gasoline consumption because of the tourist traffic.

Jefferson City, Aug. 4.—Charles U. Becker, secretary of state, has started a campaign to compel all owners of automobiles to apply for license plates.

It was reported recently that thirty one owners of automobiles were operating in that county without license plates.

MUST TEACH HONEST DEAL

AMERICA HAS OPPORTUNITY FOR LEADERSHIP.

HAWAIIANS PLEASING

Sketch Proved to Be Most Popular Musical Event on Chautauqua Program So Far.

TONIGHT.

8 p. m. Concert by Lone Star Military Band.

TOMORORW.

3 p. m. Entertainment for children, from 4 years old to 90 —Hughie Fitzpatrick.

8 p. m. William Keighley and company presents comedy success, "Adam and Eva."

Holding a magnifying glass of personal knowledge over a map of southeastern Asia, L. O. Denyes, with his lecture on "Problems of the Far East," won a ready ear at the Chautauqua this afternoon.

What had been a long chain of islands extending far out into the Pacific from the Malay peninsula, became a succession of teeming tropical gardens, alive to western civilization, pregnant with undeveloped resources and vital to world commerce. These islands, including Sumatra, Java, Borneo and others, he linked to the Malay peninsula in a geographical unit which he called Malaysia.

Mr. Denyes was born in Singapore. His boyhood was spent in that environment. He knows the customs of the natives, their languages, their beliefs. His knowledge brought him positions with British commissions, which, in turn, brought him opportunity for more intimate study of these peoples and their country. And from this knowledge he spoke this afternoon at chautauqua.

The time has come, he said, when Americans can no longer afford to be indifferent to these peoples, this country or the problems which they affect. From here comes the greater part of the tin and rubber supply of the world. Spices, oil in large quantities and other commercial commodities are to be had there. It is one of the important points of the commercial world.

The people are rapidly taking on western civilization. The country is being populated by foreign peoples, largely Japanese. Institutions are growing, Commercial organizations are forming, trade opportunities are being sought.

The Christian and Mohammedan religions have come into conflict here. The eastern belief is predominating.

America is in position to be a leader there. She must teach good will in commerce and honesty in conduct, Mr. Denyes says.

The musical sketch given last night by Albert Vierra's Hawaiian Singers entitled "An Evening in Hawaii," proved to be the musical event of the week so far.

The beautiful stage setting and special colored lights made the stage a scene of marvelous beauty. By electrical effects rippling water seemed to be lapping on the coral shore, while a volcano was in eruption. It was one of the richest and most fitting settings ever seen on chautauqua.

The company was composed of five members, one woman and four men, all musicians of exceptional ability. The steel guitar proved to be the favorite instrument of a great number of the listeners last night.

Mrs. Vierra's short talk on Hawaii, its history, its people and its industries, was most interesting and was given in a delightful manner. She brought out facts unknown to many in the large audience.

The program was interspersed with enough comedy to keep everyone in a cheerful mood and it was a program that one does not tire of.

The large tent was crowded last night and apparently everyone was immensely pleased with the music and fun produced by Mr. Vierra and his company.

Holdup Men in K. C. Union Station

Two Bandits Escape With Between $800 and $900 in Cash — Dash Through Crowded Lobby.

Kansas City, Aug. 4—Two bandits held up F. S. Lehuertz, receiving cashier of the Pullman Company on the third floor of the union station shortly before 1 o'clock today and escaped with between $800 and $900 in cash.

The men, pretending to be expressmen, entered the room where the Pullman conductors deposit their receipts, forced Lehnertz to turn over the cash and fled. Dashing downstairs, they ran through the crowded lobby and escaped in a taxicab to Lee Summit.

It was first reported that the officers of the Kansas City Terminal Association on the same floor, where receipts of many thousands of dollars often accumulate, were held up.

CLAIMS SCOTT IS NOW INSANE

MOTHER MAKES FUTILE EFFORT TO AID SON.

ALIENIST IS CALLED

Presiding Judge Makes It Plain That Condition Prior To February Is Not Question.

Chicago, Aug. 4.—Mrs. Ritta Scott, mother of Russell Scott, was the first witness called today when the insanity hearing to save the slayer of Joseph Maurer from the gallows was resumed before Judge David.

Her stay on the stand was short, she being excused after Judge David refused to permit her to testify "as to the birth of her son," declaring that the condition of the prisoner prior to February 14, 1925 did not enter into the case.

Dr. S. S. Hulburt, an alienist, was then called.

Dr. Hulbert, qualifying as an expert in mental and nervous diseases, was not permitted to testify about anything he had learned of Scott's family or business history, anything relative to Scott's alleged use of drugs and any effect he as an expert believed a sentence of death might have upon a condemned person's mind.

He was permitted to tell, however, that he had examined Scott, once for four hours and again for a few moments the same day and on occasion for several hours.

"And you have formed an opinion as to his mental state?" asked William Stewart, Scott's lawyer.

"I have; the present Russell Scott is insane."

STATES FIGHT RATE INCREASE

COOLIDGE THINKS CONSOLIDATION FIRST STEP.

MAKE BATTLE PLANS

Conference of Representatives From Seven States In Middle West Is Being Held In Topeka.

Swampscott, Mass., Aug. 4.—Freight rate reduction, in the opinion of President Coolidge, will be impossible until the consolidation of railroads has been effected in such ways as to strengthen the weaker systems, it was learned here today.

A spokesman for the President, discussing the freight rate problem at the White House today, declared that Mr. Coolidge was anxious that the country be relieved from the existing high rate schedule. His concern is particularly for the agricultural interests, it was said in his behalf.

Topeka, Kan., Aug. 4.—Seven states are represented here today in the conference to plan the fight against the proposed increase in freight rates.

The states of Nebraska, Iowa, Oklahoma, North and South Dakota, Missouri, Kansas and Minnesota will be represented, according to telegrams received here today.

The fight of the twenty-two states involved will be planned here and certain divisions in the charges on production and shipments delegated to each state.

The representatives claim that the proposed increase in railroad freight rates in the territory west of the Mississippi River is 11 per cent and amounts to 180 million dollars and would affect at least 400,000 families in the twenty-two states annually.

IMPRACTICAL IDEALISM.

College students study about it, scientists theorize on it and a handful of men use it as an excuse to run for office but the multitude, knowing it to be impractical, are no longer interested in it. It is unnecessary to add that that which is here referred to is the theory of socialism. There are some idealists who still cry for a socialistic state, but are there not also those who still believe the earth is flat? As E. W. Howe says:

"Every intelligent man, in writing truthfully of life, is compelled to deny the doctrine of socialism. If a nation adopts the socialistic plan, it is compelled, from sheer necessity, to abandon it, for the simple reason that socialistic policies will not work: they are opposed to nature.

"Socialism is one form of spirituality; and no form of spirituality works out in actual practice. In the great world, with its millions and millions of individuals, all of them selfish, the unselfish doctrines of socialism will not work."

It is difficult to state whether man is unfit for socialism or socialism is unfit for man. Neither can it be said with a certainty that the theory of socialism is a hint of what will exist twenty centuries hence. Before socialism can work evolution must create for it a new man. None of the component parts of the intellectual and spiritual man of today are adapted to this most idealistic of theories or the government of man.

ITS FIELD IS WORLD-WIDE.

"Advertising," says Francis H. Sisson, New York banker, "is a creator of values, the handmaiden of commerce and an inspiration for comity among nations."

In this eminent banker's opinion this country owes its present position as financier to the world to Americans' intelligent and persistent advertising. This advertising achievement, he believes, has disclosed a virtually illimitable field for publicity outside the immediate domain of business.

But Sisson is not the first banker to see the need of advertising in finance. Throughout the country innumerable banks are advertising extensively and those financial institutions having a national business are doing nation-wide advertising.

Banks everywhere are finding that it pays them and the public when they advertise their respective institutions, their facilities for service, the part they play in the community, the benefits of thrift and saving and the relation between bank, business and public.

STEWART'S WASHINGTON LETTER
By Charles P. Stewart
NEA Service Writer.

Washington—Congress passes a lot of laws it's impossible to understand. They can be read in two or more different ways.

Or they contain conflicting clauses or conflict with other laws. Or nobody's able to figure out just what they do mean.

What would seem to be the natural thing to do when one of these mixed up laws gets onto the statute books? Why, to ask Congress about it, of course.

Congress passed it. If anybody knows what Congress' idea was in doing it, it certainly must be Congress itself.

So why, when the executive branch of the government runs up against one of these incomprehensibly-worded enactments, doesn't go to the legislative branch and say, "This thing doesn't make sense—what in heck were you trying to get at?" Then it could be explained, or fixed.

But no. That isn't the system at all. Instead, the puzzle either is passed on up to the courts for an "interpretation" or turned over to one of the government's numerous administratives bureaus or commissions to be guessed on.

Now a judicial decision on a question of constitutionality is one thing. If Congress attempts something the fundamental code forbids, then doubtless it's some court's business to point out that it can't be done.

But interpreting and guessing laws into shape is different—it amounts to making them.

The judges do their interpreting with such straight faces—their faith in their own infallibility is so well-grounded—that the by-stander, watching them at it, isn't apt to realize how ridiculous it is. How do they know what meaningless means, any better than anybody else!

The executive officials, however, don't all take their guessing quite so seriously.

"The fact it," a high functionary of the So-and-so Bureau told me recently "We never've been able to dope out how Congress intended the Such-and-such Act to work, but we've agreed on what we thought perhaps it meant and that's the way we enforce the law."

People go to jail and pay big fines on the strength of it, too.

WRINKLES REMOVED "WHILE YOU WAIT"

It has been discovered that the mere application of a spoonful of powdered tarkroot mixed with a spoonful of lemon juice, actually removes wrinkles and creases in fifteen minutes, or less! There's no rubbing, no work, and the expense is trifling—less than three cents! It is only necessary to spread the mixture over the face, sit down before the mirror, and watch those unwelcome marks of age, illness or worry disappear like magic. The effect is incomparably better than that produced by the most skillful massaging.

The mixture of course is perfectly harmless. While on the face a pleasant soothing sensation is experienced. It is easily washed off. Aside from its remarkable effect on wrinkles, there's nothing better for baggy cheeks or chin. No woman who purcases a package of powdered tarkroot from her druggist will regret having done so.

Prussia Makes Effort to Relieve Refugees

5 Million Marks Are Hurriedly Appriated for Distressed Herded German Men and Women

By FREDERICK KUH
United Press Staff Correspondent.

Berlin, August 4.—The Prussian state government faced by bitter complaints of herded Germen men, women and children, massed after their flight from Poland, in desolate and squalid quarters at Schneidemuehl, has started to relieve the misery of the expelled.

Five million marks had been appropriated hurriedly to meet a situation in the concentration camp in which Germany's war famed "organization talent" had completely broken down, leaving a mass of sorry, suffering fugities cluttered in wretchedness, some of them sleeping in a cold drizzling rain and mingling curses with their cheers for the vaterland.

Prussian Interior Minister Severing, sometimes known as the czar of Prussia, had hastened to the camp, where families with their meager belongings were herded together in a state pictured as worse than that of the wartime prisoners from the Russian armies.

It was a strange and touching sight that greeted him at Schneidemuehl. With a torch, he went about through this peace-time army of fugitives—Germans, hastening out of Poland because Poland ordered Germans, voting in the postwar Upper Silesian plebescite, to go back to the vaterland for which they had voted.

Yet misery, an epidemic of dysentery and even death had not stilled the burning patriotism of these "Ausgewiesenen," though they made no secret of their discontent with how Prussia was taking of them. So, as the torches flickered, these men and women paraded, chorusing "Deutschland Uber Alles.."

Their curses and groans mixed with the strains, but they carried through the old stanzas to which warriors once marched and the new postwar stanza, pledging to stand together in unity and helpfulness in misfortune—"und in ungluecK, dann erst recht."

Severing accomplished some relief for the herded folk, with their dogs, cattle, goats, horses, pigs and meager belongings, when he opened a new camp at Zossen.

But, it is feared nevertheless, that 10,000 or more will be compelled to camp at Schneidemuehl two to four weeks until employment can be found for them.

Many of them are existing on short rations which they brought with them from Poland and the throng has become so great that the decrepit barracks no longer can house all of them.

It is now estimated that the country spends $1,000,000 a day for candy and $700,000 a day for ice cream, none of which has ever been charged with making a man go home and turn his family out of doors while he broke up the furniture.—Portland Oregonian.

Hobbies of the Great and Near Great in American National Life

SENATOR JAMES E. WATSON.

Leader of the Republican "Old Guard" in the Senate, an outstanding conservative and a politician to his fingertips, yet he slips away from official worries on solitary pilgrimages to the shrine of grand opera.

That is the secret hobby of Senator James E. Watson (R., of Indiana), noted in the political world for his party regularity. In the world of hobbies, however, the Senator is irregular, a radical and a near-Bolshevist. His love for grand opera amounts to a passion, but in satisfying it he breaks all the rules of society.

The Senator always attends grand opera alone. He often sits in the balcony and in the gallery, and he never wears formal dress. He has even bolted important political conferences to slip away to a theatre where some grand opera company was staging a performance. And it is his penchant to go alone.

"When I go to grand opera," he explains, "I go alone because I don't want anyone along who might disturb me. I love the music and want to give the performance my whole attention."

Debates With Sons.

In his home life the Senator is regular. He gets great pleasure out of the companionship of his sons. In the evenings the Watson home is turned into a public forum, where current issues are debated by the younger Watsons with their esteemed father. In a good many instances the Senator, on whom the Administration frequently depends for legislative leadership, is defeated in the fireside debates. The adage which applies to a prophet is doubly applicable to the Senator when the junior Watsons engage him, and frequently the Administration leader is forced to concede defeat.

"I get my greatest pleasure out of daily association with my family," the Senator says. "It is the happiest part of my life and the one oasis in the desert of politics."

Roots For Senators.

Watson is also a baseball fan. That is one of his chief sources of recreation. He is a warm admirer of Stanley Harris, the "Boy Manager" of the world's champion Washington Senators, and he looks upon Walter Johnson, the veteran "speed ball" king, as the greatest pitcher who ever lived.

"I can remember the old timers" Watson explains. "I saw Jack Nolan pitch for Indianapolis back in 1873, when he was the first pitcher to use the so-called 'hard ball.' I've followed baseball ever since, and I think Walter Johnson is the best of them all."

In the heat of the last Presidential campaign, when Washington was engaging the New York Giants in the memorable world series, Watson frequently annoyed his political associates by his interest in the games.

"I was always talking baseball when they wanted to talk politics," he said.

The Senator also is a cross-word puzzle addict, and he sometimes plays bridge.

Waston also goes to cards when wrestling with a big political problem. He has been found frequently playing a game of solitaire while developing a political theory or planning a legislative fight. The cards, apparently, help him to concentrate.

Aids Veteran.

At his office he is thoroughly human. It is said he has never refused a favor within his power to bestow. Not long since he dropped all other work to personally visit a half dozen Government bureaus to straighten out the affairs of a seventy-nine-year-old Civil War veteran who had got into a red tape tangle. It took three days to get the tape disentangled, but Watson wasn't satisfied until the old man received justice from his Government.

Among his Senatorial associates Watson is without an enemy regardless of party lines. To his political foes he is "Jim," and with that nickname goes a world of affection.

Tomorrow—Senator Charles Curtis.

"HONESTY" AND "FAIR DEALING"

Just what do those words mean to you? When you hear them spoken, do you say to yourself "Bunk?" Or do you really believe that there are such things as "Honesty" and "Fair Dealing" left in the world?

We believe that these two things form the most solid foundation for any business, and we believe that the big businesses of today are built around that policy.

To us, "Honesty" and "Fair Dealing" mean full weight on bulk goods, best quality in every article, and readiness to state a frank opinion of every item in our store.

On the other hand, "Honesty" and "Fair Dealing" are alike unto the little boy—to be seen and not heard. We try to make our business prove that "Honesty" and "Fair Dealing" still exist.

Putting a line or two of display type above the illustration is generally bad practice. It divides interest between the cut and the printed message so that the effect of both is minimized. An illustration which must be explained is a poor one. The type should merely continue the story.

Astronomer Says Next Winter Will Be Long and Hard

Paris, Aug. 4.—Next winter will be long and hard, is the deduction made from researches which have been carried on by the astronomer-priest, Father Gabriel, and which Prof. Guillaume Bigourdan, director of the Paris observatory, has described to the Academy of Sciences.

Father Gabriel has discovered that the lunar solar cycle of 744 years is divided into two periods of 372 years and four periods of 186 years. He says that the weather follows these periods and that this winter will be as severe as were the winters of the years 1553 and 1740. His observations are based on researches into the works of historians, poets and writers which were likely to give weather indications.

"Do Unto Others As You Would Have Them——"

Dayton, Tenn., Aug. 4.—Clarence Darrow, nationally-famous lawyer, can thank William Jennings Bryan that he was not punished for contempt of court in the Scopes evolution trial.

This was revealed today by Judge John T. Raulston, who presided.

When Bryan was informed that his distinguished legal opponent had been cited for contempt of court, he went to Judge Raulston and said:

"Have mercy on him, Judge."

"And I did," said Judge Raulston today.

Reach Polar Regions by Radio Programs

Chicago, Aug. 4 (United Press.)—Reports of complete success in breaking through the flaming northern lights and broadcasting a radio program from the polar waves streamed into the office of the Zenith Radio Corporation from all over the world.

The MacMillan polar expedition at Etah, on the northern tip of Greenland, successfully cut through the Auroral bands Saturday night. They broadcast a test program. Hitherto all attempts to break through the celestial display has been unsuccessful.

The program was plainly heard in Chicago. Reports from Grand Forks, N. D. and Milwaukee, Wis., indicated a perfect reception. Messages from London announced that the British Isles had tuned in and listened to the program of songs and instrumental music without a break.

When the tests started Saturday night the transmission sounded faintly. Soon it swelled out and from then on the ether carried the program without a break. After an hour and a quarter of entertainment, code messages from the MacMillan ship "Peary" were put on the air and carried for three hours.

Skirts Will Continue to Be Worn Short

Is Made Evident at Annual St. Louis Pageant of Fashion Which Just Opened There

St. Louis, Aug. 4—Milady of the middle west will continue wearing abbreviated skirts—probably slightly shorter—during the fall season.

This was evidenced in the annual St. Louis Pageant of Fashion which opened at the Garden Theater last night. The pageant will last for a week.

Shorter skirts, straight lines—broken only by dainty French ruffles—will mark the fall costumes. There will be much fur trimming with monkey fur one of the predominating features.

One of the fall models, however, will go in for longer skirts. All of the gala evening gowns worn by the mannequins showed a trend for longer skirts, if not trains at least ankle length and very close fitting.

Flower designs and metal cloth are being used extensively for Milady's costumes this winter, the exhibits show.

Winter will find a galaxy of color for the costuming with two piece dresseh much in favor.

Soldiery of Missouri in Camp at Nevada

Camp Clark, Nevada, Mo., Aug. 4 (United Press)—The soldiery of Missouri is at work here today.

On the target ranges in the air, and across country Missouri's National Guard—the largest contingent ever to visit the local camp—is at work rehearsing war tactics. From reveille to taps the soldiers are given no let up.

One of the groups which attracts most interest from the visitors is the air service squadron. The flyers are being trained in the rudiments of "wing-overs" and other sky stunts, and at the same time the necessity of keeping motors in tune. An intensive ground school course is to be given in the two weeks.

Brig. Gen. Raupp, commander of the national guard of the state, is in charge of the work here and reports after the first day that work is progressing rapidly.

Many visitors are expected Sunday from over the state, a large delegation from Kansas City already notifying they will be here.

Guilford Chautauqua Closes

The Guilford Chautauqua closed its four-day session last night with a good attendance. The programs this year were unusually good, according to Carl Wray, Guilford banker, who was a business visitor in Maryville today.

Huge Orang-Utang at Forest Park Is Dead

Animal Was Chief Attraction of St. Louis Park Zoo,—Went on Rage July 20

St. Louis, August 4 (United Press.)—Sam is dead and the animal kingdom is in mourning.

Sam was the chief attraction at the Forest Park zoo and was a huge orang utang of 12 years in age who was said to be the best educated monkey in America.

Thousands have watched the antics of the man-like monkey. He dressed in a high silk topper, dinner clothes, ate with regular table utensils, puffed at a cigarette and did other things that classified him above the ordinary average of monkeys.

July 20 Sam went on a rage. He tore down a couple of bars and generally raised havoc in the monkey cells—and promptly was put into a special cage. Since that time he has been quarrelsome.

Early Monday the monkey was found writhing in the cage and died a few minutes later. The monkey had been here for eight years.

No arrangements have been made for the funeral but a special service probably will be held.

Man Delivers His Funeral Oration

Davenport, Ia., Aug. 4—Friends of Charles Lau, retired farmer, who are attending his funeral here, were astonished to hear the dead man's voice speak the final rites.

Prior to his death Saturday, Lau had two addresses which he had prepared, recorded on two phonograph records.

One was delivered at the services at the home and the other at the vault where the body is to be cremated.

Both addresses deplored conditions at the churches of today and gave his conception of modern church evils.

Rheumatism

"Yes! it's all gone."

DO NOT close your eyes and think that health, free motion and strength are gone from you forever! It is not so. You can get rid of your rheumatism by building up your blood power. It is a fact that rheumatism means "blood poverty." It is a fact with the increase of red cells in your blood, impurities are destroyed. It is a fact that S.S.S. will help Nature build these red-blood-cells! S.S.S. is one of the most powerful blood cleansers in existence. Its results in thousands of rheumatic cases have been nothing short of amazing! The medicinal ingredients of S.S.S. are purely vegetable. This is very important to remember! What can be more inspiring, more wonderful than to see the shackles of pain released from your struggling body, swellings, lingering pains, stiffness of joints and muscles all disappear; your stomach made strong; your face pink with the old sweetheart glow, your blood enriched and your cheeks more plump as they used to be. You can do it! Take S.S.S., the great destroyer of rheumatic impurities.

S. S. S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

New Jersey Realty Men Making Fortunes

Far Rockaway, N. Y., Aug. 4—Even amateur realty operators are making fortunes overnight here as result of an unprecendented real estate boom, reports indicated.

Announcement of plans for a nine-mile board walk along the Rockaway coast established almost incredible demand for plots of land that had not changed hands for a decade.

Fortunes, of course, are not being made in cash, but in contracts on paper.

Joseph Weinstock, theater owner, claimed to have realized $2,000,000 on an original outlay of $80,000.

Battle Creek, Michigan.—"I had great pains and swelling in my sides, pains so bad at times that I could not do my housework or stand on my feet for weeks and I was in a very nervous condition. HARMONY

Church attendance was very good Sunday, August 2 as well as the preceding Sabbath. The evening service Sunday, August 2, was a continuation of the topic of the Christian Endeavor meeting. Miss Leatha Lawson was leader and R. W. Underwood made a short address in conclusion. The quartet of instruments from the orchestra are coming to be a regular feature of the Endeavor meetings. Miss Lucile Lawson is to be leader next Sunday evening.

At a congregational meeting July 26 Harry Martin was elected delegate to represent this congregation at the annual conference at Farrar, Iowa, which meets the first week in September. In case of his inability to attend, R. V. McKee will act as delegate, having been elected alternate.

The Woman's Missionary Society will meet at the church Wednesday afternoon at 2:30. At this meeting officers will be elected for the coming year.

The scholars constituting the music class of Mrs. Estella Porter, will give a recital at the church Friday evening, August 7. There are thirteen members in the class and a full evening is promised. It is hoped that there will be a good audience to hear the children give their initial performance.

Quite a number from this community attended the Parnell Chautauqua last week.

D. L. Hiatt and wife of Grant City visited at the home of W. I. Lewis Sunday. They were accompanied by Mrs. Kate M. Lewis of that place, who will remain a few days before continuing her journey to points in Oklahoma.

Miss Neva King visited Friday with Lucile and Leatha Lawson.

Mr. and Mrs. Doyle King and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Kirby spent Sunday at the home of L. A. King.

The concert given by the orchestra Friday evening under the direction of Mr. Schnabel was one of the most successful musical events of the season. The program was given without alteration and all the numbers were well received. Several from Ravenwood and Parnell attended, and expressed themselves as well entertained. Work in practice will stop now till the opening of school, when it will again be taken up.

Mrs. William Summer of Bellaire, Kan., accompanied by her granddaughter, Miss Bertha Franklin, Mrs. Alice Beahm of Sterling, Colo., are visiting this week at the home of their sister, Mrs. Alfred Hunt near Harmony. Mrs. Summer is the oldest and Mrs. Beahm the youngest sister of Mrs. Hunt. Another sister, Mrs. Lewis Porter, visited with them and at the home of her son, J. E. Porter the first of the week.

Some exceptionally good yields in oats were recorded in this neighborhood; fields going as high as 60 bushels per acre.

Boonville, Mo., Aug. 4.—After stealing a suit of clothes and $60 from the school greenhouse, Harry Wing, 15, of the Missouri Reform school here, escaped just before dusk—but bloodhounds checked his dash to freedom.

The hounds trailed the boy for several hours. He was finally found hiding near the M. K. & T. tracks and returned to school. Wing was sent to the school from Kansas City on a charge of delinquency on September 14, 1924.

Chicago Closing Grain Review.

Chicago, August 4.—Wheat made good gains on the board of trade here today and carried other grains upward with it.

Wheat's sojourn in lower territory was short. Commission houses and leading bulls absorbed most offers. Eastern traders reported an improved export inquiry for Manitoba varieties.

Spirited commission house buying, induced by pessimistic crop news from southwestern points, boosted corn.

Trade in oats was moderate in volume. Provisions finished steady.

CATTLE STRONG; HOGS HIGHER. LAMBS LOWER.

Kansas City Stock Yards, Aug. 3.—The movement of cattle seems to have settled into an even volume, and today receipts, 27,000, were the same as on each of the two proceeding Mondays but short of a year ago. The even movement was a factor in continuing strong prices on all kinds that had any showing of quality. Hog prices advanced 25 cents. Receipts continue moderate with trade active. Lambs were 25 cents lower and sheep about steady.

Today's Receipts.

Receipts today were 27,000 cattle, 7,000 hogs, and 8,000 sheep, compared with 27,000 cattle, 8,000 hogs, and 19,000 sheep a week ago, and 27,400 cattle 5,500 hogs, and 9,300 sheep a year ago.

Beef Cattle

Fat cattle ruled strong to higher. Steers good enough to sell $11.50 and up were quoted 10 to 15 cents higher. Three loads of 1289 pound steers brought $14, the top price for the day, but they lacked considerable of being finished. Strictly prime steers would have brought $14.50 or better. Other steers fed grain on grass brought $13 to $13.75 and short fed steers $11.50 to $13. Wintered steers brought $9.50 to $11.50. Some that had had a short corn feed up to $12.50. Straight grass fat steers are bringing $5 to $10. This is a wide price spread but there is a wide difference in quality and flesh. The general steer market is the most satisfactory of the year. Canners and cutters were down 10 to 15 cents, from last week's high close and other classes of cows and heifers were steady to strong. Veal calves were 50 cents higher in spots, top $10.50.

Stockers and Feeders.

Firm prices prevails for stockers and feeders with trade active. The call for fleshy feeders is urgent, due to the high prices of fed classes. There is also a growing belief that receipts of thin cattle will not be burdensome at any time this fall.

Hogs.

Hog prices today averaged 25 cents higher than last week's close, spots up as much as 30 cents. The advance took quotations up to $14 and above the extreme high point last week. Shippers were active buyers and packers traded slowly. The offerings were cleaned up closely. The top price $14 was paid for 220 pound hogs. Light, medium and heavy weights sold up to $13.90, and the bulk of sales was $13.65 to $13.90. Packing sows brought $12.40 to $12.75, and stock hogs and pigs $12.25 to $13.

Sheep and Lambs.

Trade in lambs weakened 25 cents today, but the dollar advance that occurred last week left a good margin above a week ago. Native lambs brought $14.25 to $14.75, and western lambs $14.50 to $15.25. Louisiana wethers sold at $7 to $7.50 and Colorado ewes up to $7.50.

Horses and Mules.

Receipts of horses and mules were slightly larger than in former weeks and indications are that the fall trade will open up by the middle of the month.

Leh, Kashmir, Aug. 3.—Advices today from Yarkland, Chinese Turkestan, said that the Jane Simpson-Roosevelt-Field Museaum expedition, in quest of the ovis poli, the sheep's ancestor, is now to proceed from Yarkland to Tian Shan by way of the Yarkland river.

Members of the Roosevelt family, sojourning in New Hampshire, had word several days ago, as related by the United Press, of the safety of the Roosevelt party at Yarkland. It is in the Tien Shan mountain region that the Roosevelts hope to find the ovis Poli.

BATTING EYE IS RECOVERED

MERCHANTS' TEAM WINS LAST THREE GAMES

PLAY NINETEEN GAMES

Local Team During Slump Lost Nine Games—Have Won Eight Up to Date

A glance over the score book of the Maryville Merchants' team of the games played this season since April 3, reads like the results of a football team, in the fact that the score mounts up way over the hundred mark for nineteen games played.

Since starting the season, all with home talent, and continuing through to present date, the Merchants' team has not imported a player for any game. The boys played through the first two months with an even break of games. They were hitting the ball with regularity, pounding opposing pitchers for as high as nineteen runs.

After the Memorial Day game the Merchants' batters went into a slump that continued through all of June and a part of July. Nine straight games were dropped during this time. The boys played hard and never gave up, but there seemed to be a jinx following the team. Along about the seventh inning of these games an over anxious player would throw the ball away and that would start a bobble that would affect them all, and it was in this seventh frame of every game that the fracas was lost.

The batting was fair, but when hits were needed the boys failed to deliver the goods. For four consecutive games the Merchants were blanked, losing to the Milwaukee Giants by four scores, to Shenandoah by eight runs, to Whitesville one run and again to Shenandoah by five scores. On July 12 in the game with Corning the local batters again gave some indication that they could find the ball, but not enough to win. Since then the Merchant batters have been merciless in their onslaughts of the offerings of opposing pitchers and in the game with Pickering even the reliable Dixon was driven from the mound.

Out of the nineteen games played eleven have been lost and eight chalked up to the credit of the boys who have worked behind Heine Buhler. The total score is somewhat amazing, and in spite of the fact they have lost three more games than they have won, the total runs brought in by Merchants batters is ten more than have crossed the rubber by opposing teams. One hundred and thirty-eight scores have been tallied up to date.

However, large as some of the scores have been, some close games have been witnessed on the local diamond on the fairgrounds, the scores running anywhere from 1 to 0 to 24 to 14. Thirteen games have been played at home and six on foreign fields. The support given the Merchants' team has not been the best, in fact the local boys have had a hard time keeping out of the red and sponsored a carnival in order to bring relief to their creditors. The management has some good games booked in the future. Local fans are insured of their money's worth at any of these. The bleachers filled to capacity would be a welcome sight hereafter.

A summary of the games played to date follows:

Maryville 1, Pickering 3.
Maryville 14, Conception College 13.

Death of Woman Is Town's New Mystery

Business Manager of Large Illinois Estate Was Threatened In Notes Signed With Klan Initials.

Mattoon, Ill., Aug. 4.—Who, in this little Humboldt community of 3,000 persons, were Cora Stallman's enemies, and why did they hate her with such apparent intensity?

That became the perplexing question on all sides today as authorities probed the intimate details of the life lived by the 48-year-old woman whose body was found August 1 in a cistern on Mrs. Anna Seaman's prosperous estate. Miss Stallman was the sister of Mrs. Seaman and became the business manager of her farms five years ago when Mrs. Seaman and her husband, Thomas, effected an understanding whereby they lived on their own properties independent of each other.

Mrs. Seaman was on a Mississippi River trip the night her sister lost her life but her husband had gone to Miss Stallman's home to protect the spinster, whose fears had been aroused by the repeated notes and blackhand warnings, a number of which were signed with the initials of the Ku Klux Klan.

Through the notes made public today by Coroner Schilling, ran a thinly veiled accusation that Miss Stalling had been too friendly with her brother-in-law and with Boss Lilly, a tenant farmer on the Seaman estate.

Mrs. John Vanhouten of Parnell entered Noyes Hospital in St. Joseph yesterday morning for an appendicitis operation.

Miss Dale Skinner will go to Omaha tomorrow to spend a week's vacation with her brothers, Clifford and Paul Skinner, and their families.

Bloomfield, Mo., Aug. 1.—Nise Henson, 50, farmer is under charges of murder here, following the shooting to death of Erastus Duncan, 50, a neighbor farmer.

The two men had been enemies for some time, according to testimony before the coroner's jury and on their latest occasion to meet near the Henson farm, matters were settled definitely. Henson declared he saw Duncan reaching for his gun and "beat him to the draw." Search of Duncan's body revealed two knives and a revolver.

Henson fired three shots, but one taking effect.

History of the Pickering Christian Church Read Sunday at Homecoming

Mrs. C. R. Harmon of Pickering Gives Sketch of the Organization of that Church

A history of the Pickering Christian Church was read at the homecoming of the church in Pickering Sunday by Mrs. C. R. Harmon. It follows:

In the year 1857, at the public tavern in a small town in the state of Iowa, were gathered six or seven travelers, journeying in different directions; but the shades of evening having fallen they had stopped for refreshments and lodging for the night, and thus being thrown in each other's company, some of them gathered around a table and whiled away the evening hours at cards.

Two of the company refused to engage in the game and were thus thrown in each other's company. One of these was a church member, evidently, but of what church he was a member, or where his home and destination was, and even his name are unknown. The other was a resident of Nodaway county, Mo., a man of skeptical bent of mind, and was returning to his former home in Davis county, Ia., on business.

These two men, when the time for retiring for the night had come, agreed to bunk together. While they were preparing for bed the Nodaway county man kept talking to his companion of the night, but noticing that he was unanswered, and that his companion had become perfectly quiet, looked around and saw him kneeling at the bedside, but he heard not a word. Yet he afterwards said that he never had anything to impress him as this action of this man who was an entire stranger to him, and that never after that night did he himself go to bed without first offering up his prayer to God, and that when he arrived at home he got out his Bible and began the study of the Word, which he kept up for a year before he made known to his family his change of mind.

Thus, the action of a Christian in a tavern in another town and state, was the real beginning of the Pickering Christian church, for the Nodaway county man that was so influenced by this action was none other than Thornton Fakes, now of sainted memory.

How often we think that our actions are unnoticed by others, but no one can measure the effects of his deeds. The Iowa traveler never learned of the results of his silent prayer in the Iowa tavern, but when life's record is complete and when he and we view it from the other side, and only then, will we be able to know the full results of all our actions.

Brother Fakes continued his reading the Bible till he was thoroughly convinced of his duty, when he sent for Brother Trapp, who was the nearest preacher of the Apostolic Faith that he could reach, who came and preached in the grove one-half mile west of Pickering, and Brother Fakes and his wife and oldest son made confession and were baptized the same day in the river at a point where the bridge now stands, one mile northeast of Pickering. This was in the year 1858.

Not more than three months after his baptism, Brother Fakes began preaching in the Pleasant View schoolhouse, which stood on the present site of the Coleman cemetery, and soon afterwards effected the organization of a congregation of Disciples, consisting of 14 members, who agreed to take the Bible, the whole Bible, and nothing but the Bible, as their rule of faith and practice.

The names of the charter members were:

Thornton Fakes, Catharine Fakes, his wife; Eliza J. Fakes, now Mrs. Moon, Earl C. Fakes, Levi Taylor, Harvey Hall, Minerva Hall, his wife; Joseph Hall, Mary Hall, sr., his wife; Mary Hall, jr., their daughter, James Stockwell, Elizabeth Stockwell, his wife, Jacob Taylor, and Rebecca Taylor, his wife.

A short time after the organization was effected, an incident occurred that aptly illustrates the state of feeling in the community toward the new organization and its doctrines. A brother who was a member of another church, approached one of the members of the new church and said: "I wish you would go into some branch of the church, for," said he, "if you are right you are very unpopular."

Brother Fakes continued preaching for the church till the breaking out of the war, when he sold out with the intention of going to California; but deciding to wait until after the close of the war to make the journey, he located at Quitman and still preached occasionally for the church he had organized in the Pleasant View schoolhouse.

At this time a preacher by the name of Johnson moved into the community and preached for the congregation about a year.

By the close of the war, the congregation had become so depleted in membership as to be practially broken up.

Consequently when Bro. Fakes returned to the neighborhood and settled near Old Xenia, he reorganized the church at that place, and continued preaching for the church there.

While Brother Fakes was preaching for the congregation there, Deacon Hall also preached for them for about two years. Thus, they had two preachers at the same time, which in that early day was not an uncommon occurrence as the preachers were not paid a salary, but preached wherever a band of Disciples could be gathered together.

Under the ministry of these two godly men the congregation began to increase in membership rapidly, baptisms were of frequent occurrence, and much good seed was sown to be gathered in later years.

Following Deacon Hall, came a Brother Alexander, about two years, then Brother January two years regularly, and for several years occasionally.

Finally, the organization becoming weakened by removals, the congregation disbanded and reorganized in the Happy Hollow schoolhouse, one and one-half miles east of Xenia, where they continued meeting until the organization was effectd at Pickering, when one by one they moved their membership here.

In the year 1882 Father Fakes organized another congregation in the Glendale schoolhouse, where Bro. Dunlavy was preaching one-fourth time. This congregation continued meeting only for short time at Glendale, when the organization was moved to Pickering and a Bible school was organized, meeting in the schoolhouse till the building of the church, about the year 1883 or 1884. Brother Dunlavy continued preaching for the congregation well after the building of the church.

Bro. Cotton who was the minister at Maryville at that time dedicated the building and continued a two weeks meeting during which there were several additions. The first person baptized in the baptistry was Miss Ella Jones, now Mrs. Thomas Wilson of St. Joseph.

Following is a list of preachers who have preached for the congregation since Bro. Dunlavy: Bro. Cobb, Bro. Connoran, Bro. Chapman, Bro. Tandy, Jesse T. Cook, Horace Sidwell, F. E. Blanchard, M. L. Cotterell, O. J. Bulfin, E. B. Woods, F. M. Lindenmeyer, E. W. Killion, J. N. Plummer, E. O. Hutchinson, J. T. Alsup, W. A. Chapman, Chas. A. Knouse, Thomas Walton.

In 1902 during the pastorate of Bro. Blanchard the building was remodeled and the east room built on. Bro. Haggard of Des Moines dedicated the church at this time.

Children's Day for Foreign Missions has been observed each year since the day was set apart I think. Likewise Easter Sunday for the Orphan Home work. Aside from these the church contributes regularly to the Home Mission work, Church Extension, Temperance, Christian Unity, C. W. B. M., Board of Education and Ministerial Relief.

The resident membership is 243 with a non-resident list of 22. The Sunday School enrollment is 225. The Women's Missionary Society meets regularly and the Aid Society contributes regularly to the local work. The first Sunday in August or September has been observed continuously, for about 60 years as an annual meeting of disciples in Nodaway County and a Home Coming Day. Only a few years has this been omitted.

One-Eyed Flyer to Attempt Flight From New York to Paris

By A. L. BRADFORD
United Press Staff Correspondent.

Paris, August 4.—Francois Coli, French ace, now real estate man, is convinced that he and Paul Tarascon will succeed in their proposed nonstop flight from Paris to New York the end of August.

The one-eyed flyer, who will be accompanied by the one-legged Tarascon, told the United Press today that "we have the necessary will power and energy" while "the essential thing is that the motor show no more weakening than we do."

"It will not be a voyage without peril," he commented dryly, "for once above the ocean we must not even think of landing on the water as this would be about tantamount to death.

We expected to make the flight in 28 to 30 hours. It is only necessary to concentrate on reaching New York and to do everything to that end."

It is expected that the pair will take a route over England, Ireland, New Foundland to New York.

To Heat Polar Regions.

London, August 4.—Wireless broadcasting of heat to the North Pole regions will make more habitable space for the inhabitants of this earth, in the opinion of A. M. Low, Scientist.

Low also predicts that electrical rays will eventually divert rain clouds to desert regions to make them bloom like the moist regions.
